RE: EMILY STANG

I am pleased to write a letter of reference in support of Emily.

I have known Emily through her involvement with the Department of Athletics at Ryerson University. Emily has lead numerous First Aid & CPR courses at Ryerson, including courses for seasonal staff members and Leaders In Training with our Summer Day Camp.

As Director of our Day Camp program, I believe it is vital that we provide our campers with a safe environment for active learning. Each year, our staff members are expected to successfully complete their Standard First Aid & CPR 'C' certification. Knowing our staff members are skilled to handle the many first aid scenarios that are inevitably part of a day at Camp is very important to me and, of course, to our Camp parents. The skills that Emily so thoroughly teaches to our staff members and LITs could one day save a child's life.

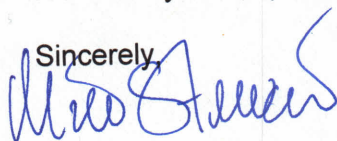

Emily is a versatile instructor, and is able to adapt to any group of students. She approaches her courses with a high level of commitment, and is an exceptional skill instructor. She takes great care in understanding the skills of her students, and ensures that material is taught in an accessible manner that is easy to understand.

Emily brings a natural energy to her role as an instructor. She quickly earns the respect of her students. Her positive attitude and upbeat approach contribute to a course that is thorough, informative, and fun. She is willing to spend additional time assisting others as needed, and she works hard towards fostering a depth of knowledge and understanding in her students.

I would not hesitate to recommend Emily as a First Aid & CPR instructor. We are already looking forward to Emily offering more courses for our Camp staff members and LITs this Summer.

I would be happy to speak with anyone who requires more information about Emily. I can be reached by email (mike.stewart@ryerson.ca) or phone (416-979-5000 ext. 3334).

Sincerely,

Mike Stewart
